The members of the Advancement in Pediatrics and Healthcare Organizing Committee have officially disclosed the subject for the Pediatrics Congress 2021 conference, which is "Unveiling Novel Research & Technology to Better healthcare in Childrens." Pediatrics Congress 2020 organizing committee recognize the efforts and contributions of scholars, researchers, academicians, and scientists in the fields of Pediatric Education, Pediatric Research, Pediatrics in Today's Society, Pediatric Teaching Technology, Midwifery and Woman's Health, Pediatric Nursing, and Geriatric Nursing, and have decided to introduce various achievements in these fields. Several awards will be given out at the conference to great researchers, scientists, remarkable graduates, and early academics who have made significant contributions to the subject and have a strong interest in the conference theme. The awards aim to provide excellent professional development opportunities for all researchers at all stages of their careers. Furthermore, our conferences will give much-needed time and space for everyone to engage with professionals from all over the world and establish long-term networks and relationships.

Our recognition category is divided into two parts:

Academic Awards (Awarded at the conference): Best Speaker Award: This award honors an individual who has excelled in developing the presentation with ease in Speaker Sessions while maintaining a high-quality standard of experience.

Best Research Honor: This award recognizes an individual or team who has excelled in research in their field, demonstrating a high-quality standard in their efforts to enable new innovation.

Best Young Researcher Award: The goal of the Best Young Researcher Award is to encourage students to participate actively in the International Science platform in order to enhance their abilities and knowledge while they are still in the early stages of their careers. Pediatric Congress 2020 has a lot of posters, thus the Best Poster Award is up for grabs. One poster presenter will be nominated for the Best Poster Presentation Award by the speakers who have been appointed as poster judges. The Conference seeks to give a forum for all prospective graduates, scientists, and aspiring researchers to present their research work, perspectives, and various aspects of the theme "Exploring new problems in Nursing & Healthcare Affairs."

To be eligible for this prize, one must have a minimum of 20 years of experience in the discipline of microbiology.

Online awards can also be given to deserving nominees.

Best E-Poster Award: This E-Poster Award honors an individual who has demonstrated excellence in exposing research in the Eposter category.

Scholar Level (The Incoming Researcher Award): Advancement in Nursing and Healthcare awards the Scholar Level Award to upcoming scientists, researchers, and experts with 10 years or more of research experience in the field of health care. Nursing Congress 2020 aims to give the greatest venue for you to grow your network by sharing your research expertise on stage. The presentation will consist of a 25-30 minute oral presentation on scientific research subjects related to the conference theme, as well as a 5-minute panel discussion.

Women Scientists (The Women of Science Award): Nursing Congress 2020 offers a unique venue for women scientists to showcase their latest research initiatives with in-depth analysis through the "Women of Science Award." Women scholars and scientists from the domains of nursing and healthcare are invited to attend the Nursing Congress 2020. Through our cooperation, the committee supports 4th Global Conference on Nursing and Healthcare Volume 9 Issue 3 women scientists by providing research scholarships and assisting women scholars with career development and research direction. To be eligible for this prize, one must have a minimum of 10 years of research experience in the field of nursing and healthcare.

Outstanding Master's, Ph.D., and Post-Doctoral Thesis Work Presentation at the 2020 Nursing Congress. The prize is for Masters/Ph.D./Post Doctorate students who may present their thesis and projects, or who have completed them, for long-term excellence in the field of health care. Deserving nominees can also be recognized online.
