

Past conference report on International Conference on Endocrinology Disorders, Diabetes Complications and Hypertension

Christopher Bryant

University of Montreal, Canada

The International Conference on Endocrinology Disorders, Diabetes Complications and Hypertension was held on July 31st- August 1st 2020 as a Webinar due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

It is our immense pleasure to thank all our wonderful Speakers, Delegates, Students, Media Partners and Associations for making Endocrinology 2020 Conference a grand Success. We would also like to thank and congratulate our Committee Members for their immense hard work which made sure that the Conference didn't get affected by the change of mode of presentation and the webinar was much more like a venue Conference.

Endocrinology 2020 has taken privilege of Honoring Keynote Speakers, Whose talk made this meeting initiate in an interesting manner.

The Panel discussion session made a knowledge sharing experience as this made the delegates to raise their questions towards the speakers. The Speakers were keen enough to answer the queries and raised the standards of the webinar. We would like to give a special thanks all the Delegates who attended the webinar and made sure they don't miss a chance to make use of the webinar.

Our Keynote Presenter:

Dr Claudio Frasson | University of Padua | Italy

Dr. Jen-Fang Lee | National Taipei University of Technology | Taiwan

Dr. Ian James Martins | Sarich Neuroscience Research Institute | Australia

Our Speakers:

Ei Terasawa | University of Wisconsin-Madison | USA

Medina Jasso Juan | University of Mexico | Mexico

Satish Kumar Davi | King Saud University | Kingdom of Saudi Arabia
Mohamed Rafiullah | King Saud University | Kingdom of Saudi Arabia

Dr. Slavica Tudzarova | University of California, Los Angeles

The Webinar ended successfully with final words from our OCM members which took the Conference to a highly informative manner.
